80-piece symphony orchestra to have special student concert

The lectures and concerts committee announced this week that the Indianapolis Symphony, one of the foremost symphony orchestras in the United States, will present a special student concert in Somsen auditorium, March 14.

The program, which will begin at 3:15 and last approximately one hour, will consist of selections by such composers as Wagner, Tchaikovsky and Brahms. No final examinations will be scheduled during this time.

THE ORCHESTRA is scheduled

Report events now

James Spear, audio-visual director, reminds all organizations that the spring quarter calendar will be printed soon. All social activities should be reported to the social committee immediately, so that they can be listed on the student calendar.

ed to present a full length concert in the evening at Winona High School as a part of the Community Concert series. Renato Pacini will conduct the 80-piece

Phelps to present operetta; students urged to attend

The operetta entitled "The Nutcracker and the Mice" will be presented by the Phelps Laboratory School, Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. at Somsen Auditorium.

The main cast of characters includes: Richard Baylon, narrator; Beth Munson, mother; Robert Evens, father; Sue Petit, Marie; Ronald Kamrowski, Fritz; Steve Cox, Dr. Dosselmyer; Tony Hoyt, Nutcracker; Michael Corcoran, Mouse King; and Richard orchestra at the special WSC matinee performance.

Admission will be by activity card, but guests of students will be admitted.

Kamrowski, Richard Boller and Franklin Fitch, mice.

THE LARGE CAST of dancers and choruses is composed of students from grades 4 through 9.

The operetta is under the direction of Miss Carlis Anderson, with assistance of the Phelps staff.

Dr. Howard Munson, principal of Phelps, commented that he felt it would be a valuable and enjoyable experience for all educators to attend the production.

The public is invited.

College sophomores to gain new National Guard program

The Army National Guard is announcing a new officers candidate program for college sophomores.

The pamphlet, "A New National Guard," has been distributed around the college. It states that "if you join the Army National Guard between Feb. 10 and April 30, your military service time starts while you're still a college sophomore."

"THIS NEW PROGRAM permits you to meet two and a half years of your military obligation while you're in college, by training as a Guardsman on an average of one weekend a month. As a college graduate who has participated in this plan you spend nine weeks at an Active Army School and complete your military service as an officer in an Army Guard Unit."

Mr. LeRoy Stadler, Personnel Department, said that Captain

David H. Lueck, Winona National Guard Commander, is coordinating a visitation of Captain Robert L. Blevins, St. Paul.

All made students of freshman and sophomore standing are urged to attend a briefing of the new program at the College Student Lounge on March 8 at 10 a.m.

THOSE UNABLE to attend may speak with Capt. Blevins in the Smog during the remainder of the day.

SNEA holds monthly meeting

The Student National Education Association held its monthly meeting at Gildemeister Hall on Feb. 22.

Mr. Edwark Leipold, executive Secretary of the Hennepin Division of the Minnesota Education Association (MEA), was the guest speaker.

Mr. Seipold discussed the differences between the Minnesota Federation of Teachers and the MEA.

AT THE BUSINESS meeting that followed SNEA members discussed the 1966 Student Minnesota Education Association Delegate Assembly which is to be held in Winona April 22 and 23. The Assembly meets each year to elect SMEA officers.

The members also discussed the project AIM, Aid to Indians of Minnesota. SNEA is going to donate $50 to help improve the education of Indians in Minnesota.

It was announced that at the next meeting there will be an election of officers for the coming year.

DAVID WENDLANDT was the program chairman for the evening.

Speech contest winners named

Winners of first places in the Speech Round Table extemporaneous speaking contest held last Thursday evening were: William Roth, Winona, in the men's division, and Judy Kugler, Minneapolis, in the women's division.

Other winners, in order, were: Men—Robert Neessen, Rushford; Bruce Podewils, St. Paul, and Dean Ingvalson, Preston; and Women—Jeannie Hittner, Winona; Linda Peterson, Edina, and Patricia Bisel, Butterfield.

JUDGE WAS Jack Starr, La Crosse State University.

WSC concert band to plan program; public is invited

The Winona State College Concert Band, directed by William Schmid, will present a concert this Sunday at 8:00 p.m. in Somsen Auditorium.

Admission is free and the public is invited.

MUSIC FOR A FESTIVAL, by Gordon Jacob, will be the featured number on the program. This unique composition, written in 1951, has ten alternating sections for antiphonal brass ensemble and band. The brass ensemble will be placed in the balcony to create the unusual effect of spatial separation.

Members of the ensemble are: Trumpets: William Bixby, Metlakatla, Alaska; Gary McDowell, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Leonard Purrington, Alma, Wisconsin; Douglas Wood, Winona.

Trombones: Richard Anderson, Northfield; Charlotte Behnken, Viola; Lynn Huntoon, Plainview.

PLAYING TIMPANI will be Dennis Aase of Faribault.

Opening the second half of the program will be Serge Prokofiev's Athletic Festival March. Prokofiev is the composer of the children's piece, Peter and the Wolf.

During the decade following World War I, a group of American composers fought to escape the domination of the European musical tradition. Wallingford Riegger (1885-1961) was closely associated with this group. His Dance Rhythm is an exciting modern version of a minuet and trio.

Second Suite for Military Band, by Gustav Holst, draws on a wealth of English folk songs for the basis of its themes. The five sections of the Suite are entitled (1) March, (2) Song Without Words, (3) "I'll Love My Love," (4) Song of the Blacksmith, (5) Fantasia on "Orgeson."

The band will complete the program of original wind music with two well-known marches, Semper Fidelis, by Sousa, and National Emblem by Bagley.

Final review meeting scheduled for planning of high-rise dormitory

The final review for the 14-story high rise dormitory is scheduled in President Nels Minne's office Monday. The anticipated completion date of the building is September 1967.

The Dormitory project architects Griswold and Rauma, consulting architect George Kline of the firm of Hammel, Green, and Abrahamson will review plans which precede working drawings. The scheduled time table of completion of the project, advertising for bids, and the beginning construction date will be discussed.

COLLEGE officials in attendance will be Dr. Nels Minne, college president; Mr. M. L. Mariner, dean of men; Mrs. Marguerita Ritman, dean of women; Mr. Harold Murck, business manager; Mr. John Kane, student aids director; Mrs. Fae Griffith, dormitory director; and Mr. Larson, chief engineer.

The building, to be located south of the student union, will have contemporary functional lines which will not be vertical, according to President Minne.

Morey and Shepard Halls will be remodeled as soon as the new 14-story dormitory is completed, Dr. Minne also commented.

DR. MINNE said that according to historical documents in his office, building has definitely changed since the early days of the college.

He said that in 1860 the second floor of a wood frame building next to the present city hall on Fourth Street held 30 students.

In 1869 a large wood structure with brick walls and high towers somewhat larger than present day Somsen Hall was built where Somsen Hall is now located. This building, called Normal Hall, cost a total of $43,000 in 1869, and was completely demolished by a fire in 1922. Winona State College is in the process of spending $14 million over a twelve-year time period.

SS elections set tomorrow

MAD PAPER HANGERS . . . The Student Senate campaign opens in a frenzied rush as hopefuls begin putting up their posters. Following introductions at basketball game, dance, and convocation, their efforts will culminate in the voting Friday, from 8:00 to 3:00 by the P.O. boxes. (Photograph by Paul Hodge)

Editorial

A college needs your books

There seems to be quite a little doubt in the minds of many students as to the various duties of the senators on the student senate. This is to try to clarify just what the major assigned duties of each senate position are as spelled out in the senate's constitution.

The president, of course, presides at the meetings. He can call special meetings and appoint special committees. The vice-president takes over the president's duties when he is absent. He is the general chairman of homecoming as well as in charge of Student Senate elections. The secretary records and distributes the minutes of the meetings and notifies the senators of upcoming meetings. The treasurer is responsible for the budget and represents the senate on the Finance Committee (which is part of the higher administration of the college). The senate liason concerns himself with matters of the bookstore and library. The athletic senator represents a number of athletic clubs on campus. The departmental senator represents all the clubs not covered by the other senators. He meets with the clubs each year to set up a meeting schedule for the following year. He has the power to request that any club on campus be removed if it is not meeting college standards. And finally the departmental senator reviews the constitutions of all college clubs every other year. The publicity senator represents student publications as well as publicizing all college functions associated with the senate. He is also publicity chairman for homecoming. The religious senator brings to the senate any problems the religious clubs might have. The social senator helps plan the Social activities (such as SAC) in coordination with the Faculty Social Committee. The union senator is a rather recent addition to the senate. He concerns himself with the student center problems. The dormitory senator concerns himself with the problems of the dormitory and food service.

Of course these are only the main duties of the senate positions up for election this time. General duties of all the senators include serving on many special committees, and making monthly reports to the senate to keep it informed of his area, just to mention a few.

These then are the duties of the senate positions open at the upcoming election. Consider the qualifications of the candidates running, for these are the people who will be representing you in the meetings where the administration seeks student opinion in making decisions. And the senate itself makes many decisions that directly effect the student body. The senate is growing in power. Make sure you place that power in the hands of wisely chosen senators, and make sure you vote Friday.

Book review

Nurses, read the 'Intern'

By MARY ANDERSON

One of the best selling books is Intern by Doctor X. Students in nursing or pre-med will find Intern especially helpful and interesting, and it is a book which any reader will enjoy.

Doctor X kept a day by day journal of his intern year at a large Texas hospital by means of a tape recorder, with his wife making typed copy of his words. For three years the unedited manuscript lay in Dr. X's home as he became busy with his general practice. When he began to read his journal he found that "Each case was as vivid as when I worked on it. And I was amazed to see how closely I had read the situation in the light of general practice." He finally began his book, writing from his own words of ten years ago.

INTERN is divided into five parts, as was Doctor X's year of internship — Medicine I (general examinations, general cases), Surgery, Pediatrics, Obstetrics and Gynecology, and Medicine II (surgery).

Doctor X's main problems came in Medicine I. He found that it took him five times longer than a resident doctor to give a general examination, illnesses he couldn't explain a nurse had to help him with, simple jobs he couldn't perform a practical nurse could do. He went through periods of depression when he felt that everything he did was wrong; that he could never be a doctor. But as the months passed he became acquainted with his various jobs, the hospital, and

Circle K club invites all men

Letter to the Editor:

Mr. Roy Wilsey, president of Circle K, and the other members of that organization wish to extend an invitation to all young men on campus to attend a meeting any Monday night at 6:45 in room 2 of the Student Union.

This club is a service club and the members are willing to do something for others and not always ask what it will do for us personally. Circle K builds friendship, fosters integrity, and develops leadership characteristics.

CIRCLE K has undertaken the following service projects in the past: a clothing drive for sweaters for needy school children in Africa, and taking children from the Catholic home to football, basketball games and wrestling meets.

Once again we wish to extend the invitation to all men who are interested in Circle K.

Alumni plan fiftieth reunion

To the Editor:

It pleased me to read on page 3 in the Feb. 3 issue the notice of the decision of the Alumni Association board of directors that June 4 was selected as the day of the annual meeting and FIFTIETH Class reunion, and the following paragraph concerning my activities in this affair as class president. Office Secretary Miss Angelyn de Groot, who is also secretary of the Winona State College Alumni Association, and President Nels Minne are also being helpful.

I think it would not be amiss to give credit to four classmates known as the steering committee, now living in the Twin Cities who are "carrying the ball." They are trying to contact all classmates of the Class of 1916 with the hope that through some of them the present unknown addresses of other classmates may be learned so that every living classmate can be contacted and urged to attend our FIFTIETH reunion. This committee consists of Marion Simpson Bagg, Ann Studt Covart, Maude Ford Dickson and Verna McReavy Meyer. By the way, Maude Ford is our class vice-president.

It occurred to me that it would be very helpful if your staff could print a short article in the WINONAN when you can find space for it, asking all graduates of the Class of 1916 who have not received a notice from the class steering committee concerning our FIFTIETH reunion June 4 at Winona State College to please write to or contact Mrs. Marion V. Bagg, 6800 Normandale Road, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55424 and give their present correct address.

In addition to graduating from Winona Normal School in June 1916 and then entering the United States Military Academy at West Point from the 1st Minnesota Congressional District, I had graduated from the Jefferson School in January 1911 and from Winona High School in June 1914.

I am sure that I will feel lost in the maze of large new buildings now on Winona State College Campus. Members of the faculty during my student days are now honored by having their names designating some of the new buildings, such as President Guy E. Maxwell, Miss Florence (Flossie) Richards, Miss Theda Gilde-meister and perhaps others.

Sincerely yours,
Col. (Ret.) Vincent J. Conrad

Interstate intercollegiate debates 'Is crime on the increase?'

Is crime on the increase? If so, what should be done to meet the problem?

These are among the vital social questions that will be considered during the two invitation interstate-intercollegiate debates to be held next Wednesday afternoon and evening on the Winona State College campus.

THE NATIONAL intercollegiate proposition to be debated is, Resolved: That Law Enforcement Agencies in the United States Should be Given Greater Freedom in the Investigation and Prosecution of Crime.

The debate tournament is one of a large number of public speaking activities made available each year to WSC undergraduate students through the opportunities offered by the Speech Round Table Program under the chairmanship of Dr. Lyman Judson, Department of Speech.

For the tournament, WSC varsity debaters will be hosts to Stout State University debaters enroute to a Pi Kappa Delta provincial tournament at the University of Wisconsin. So far, the Stout representatives have participated in thirty-nine intercollegiate decision debates on the question this year.

THE WINONA State College speakers were selected, after tryouts, from among the members of the Speech 320 class in Debate and Discussion. Speaking for WSC on the negative in the debate beginning at 4 p.m. in Room 200, Somsen Hall, will be Margaret Lyndahl, Harmony; Kathleen Macioch, St. Paul; and Lee Turner of Winona. Chairman of the contest will be Francis Hayes of Williamsport, Pennsylvania. All students are invited to hear this debate as well as the one to be held at night.

In the second debate, to begin at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of Pasteur Hall, WSC debaters on the affirmative will be William Christensen, Virginia, and Jerald Wilharm, Waterloo, Iowa. The chairman of the debate will be Winona County Attorney, Mr. S. A. Sawyer.

BETWEEN THE debates, at 5:30 p.m., the WSC debaters will be hosts to the speakers from Menomonie, Wisconsin, at a dinner to be held in the Student Union.

Frank Hayes will act as chairman at the dinner. Speakers will be Dr. Harold Guthrie, representing WSC, and Professor Stewart, representing SSU.

WSC STUDENTS who hold tickets for regular dining hall meals and who are interested in public speaking activities are invited to register their names with Mr. Fred Baldwin, in the food services office, if they wish to attend the dinner for the debaters. Only the first twenty-five who register can be seated.

Minnesota auxiliary presents book to WSC

Mrs. N. A. Roettiger, representing the Auxiliary to the Minnesota Veterinary Medical Association, presented the Evolution of the Veterinary Art by Dr. J. F. Smithcors, (D.V.M., Ph.D.) to the Winona State College school library.

The book was donated by Veterinary Medicine Magazine of Bonner Springs, Kansas.

THE MINNESOTA Auxiliary under the direction of the Auxiliary to the American Veterinary Medical Association will distribute 55 books over the state.

Veterinary Medicine is as old as recorded history, and veterinary practices of some sort undoubtedly are as old as civilization itself. This book attempts to tell the story that veterinary practice is one of the oldest of human enterprises. It is a narrative account to 1850.

SAM elects officers

The Society for the Advancement of Management (SAM) recently elected its officers for the coming year.

Elected were Henry Kleis, president; Gordon Wiebke, vice president; James Kasten, corresponding secretary; and Kenneth Brueske, treasurer.

Also elected was the most valuable member of the year. His name will not be announced until the annual SAM banquet on March 7.

Presiding was president Frank Kottschade, who thanked all the retiring officers and members for their support and assistance, sighted the accomplishments of SAM throughout the past year.

FAST BREAK TO A 1000 . . . It isn't often that Dave Meisner gets a basket this easily, but here the "Mouse" uses a quick layup to bring him closer to the 1,000 point mark that he achieved against Bemidji last Friday. (Photograph by Paul Hodge)

Cagers fall to Bemidji; Meisner passes 1000 mark

The game last Friday with Bemidji went right down to the wire, but Winona State's basketball team just couldn't get the break they need to provide a victory for departing coach, Dr. Robert Campbell. The pesky Beavers fought back continually in the second half and with the aid of a clutch basket by reserve Curt Fabel, they finally slipped past the Warriors in the last two minutes to take a 77-74 decision.

Fabel, who had replaced Dave Odegard after Bemidji's big center was finally assessed with his fifth foul, tipped in the winning basket with just 52 seconds left to play in the game to drop Winona's conference mark to 4-6 and leave them with an overall record of 7-15 to close the campaign.

HOWEVER, THE season finale with the highly economical Beavers certainly had one highlight for Winona supporters as Cloquet's strongest contribution to Minnesota basketball, Dave Meisner, managed to eclipse the 1,000 point mark.

"Mouse" needed 22 points to reach the coveted goal, and he combined several razzle-dazzle layup shots with some keen outside shooting to collect 16 of those in the first half alone. The star of the 1963 high school state tournament then added 12 more to his total in the remaining 20 minutes to give him 1,006 for his career as a Warrior.

MEISNER, WHO is only a junior, was presented with a trophy following the conclusion of the game by Frank Hayes, president of the Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity. But when St. Cloud's Issy Schmiesing scored 56 points in his team's victory over Michigan Tech last Saturday, Dave dropped to second place in the final individual conference scoring derby.

After some quick-whistled officiating had put Winona's center, Mike Jerecek, on the bench with five fouls with over sixteen minutes left, the Warriors rebounding edge gradually dissolved. But Chip Schwartz, Jerecek's replacement, turned his finest performance of the year and Tim Anderson had a torrid second half hitting on seven of ten shots from the floor to keep Winona out in front.

It wasn't quite enough to counteract Bemidji's persistent rally, and the victory gave the Beavers a second-place finish in the conference.

Friday's game was the last for Captain Gary Peterson. He will graduate in the spring.

Moorhead nips matmen 20-16 conference meet Saturday

The largest crowd since the days of the Cotter High School Holiday basketball tournament was on hand in Memorial Hall last Monday as Winona State's undefeated wrestling squad clashed head-on with the mighty Dragons of Moorhead State.

The match couldn't have been any more action-packed than it was; however, the host Warriors suffered their first loss of the season as they came out on the short end of a 20-16 score despite some gallant performances by Jim Tanniehill, Ray Wicks, and Steve Drange.

WINONA HAD BOOSTED its record to an unbelievable 19-0 the week prior to the Moorhead contest by recording a pair of dual-meet victories over the State College of Iowa and South Dakota State respectively.

Although Wicks contributed the only pin against SCI, the final score was a lopsided 23-6 in favor of the Warriors. Rog Jehlicka, Perry King, Leo Simon, Merle Sovereign, Tanniehill, and John Zwolinski each captured a decision to provide the surprisingly easy victory over the Panthers.

The following night Winona ran into a bit stiffer competition in South Dakota State. The Warriors were forced to rely on some last minute heroics by Don Scrabeck and Zwolinski to edge the Jackrabbits 15-12 and protect their perfect slate.

SIMON AND Sovereign were again outstanding, but SDSU's tough representatives at 160- and 167-pounds handed initial losses to Tanniehill and Wicks. However, Scrabeck came through with a clutch 6-1 decision to pull Winona even and was rewarded with a shoulder-top ride off the mat by his teammates — the likes of which this reporter hasn't seen since the '63 World Series.

"Malty" then had little trouble in decisioning his opponent to supple Winona with the three points needed for the margin of victory.

Following the barnburner with the Dragons, however, Coach Bob Gunner's crew was convinced that Moorhead possessed the strongest collection of small college wrestlers in the nation. It wasn't until the sixth match of the night that a Winona grappler actually won a decision. Glenn Tointon won by forfeit at 115 pounds and King with his opponent at 137, but it took a bruising 18-7 decision by Tanniehill to put the Warriors back in the fight.

WICKS ALSO regarded his winning form by mauling his 167-pound opponent 14-4. With Jehlicka, Simon, Sovereign and Scrabeck all losing close matches, the Warriors trailed 17-13, but Drange, competing for the first time in three weeks, brought Winona within one point as he captured a 7-3 decision at 191-pounds.

Zwolinski was then faced with the task of stopping the defending NAIA champion to preserve Winona's unbeaten status, and "Malty" did manage a takedown and a pair of body slams in the first period to take an early lead. But as the match progressed the 260-pound Bob Billberg overpowered "Malty" and took an eventual 5-2 decision.

THE LOSS WAS the first for the team and its heavyweight. Both are now 19-1 with next action scheduled for this Saturday in the form of the conference meet to be held in St. Cloud.

Cowboys upset in YMCA league

The Cowboys dropped into a tie for first place with the Falcons after being upset 77-75 by the Redskins in YMCA adult basketball league action last week. Both the Cowboys and the Falcons now have lost once in eight games while the Bears are a close second with a 6-2 record.

The Redskins relied on heavy scoring from Dennis Durand and Tony Kreuzer and staged a last period rally coupled with an effective stall to edge the powerful Cowboys. Durand poured in 24 points and Kreuzer added 17 while Lowell Crossbach paced the losers with 26.

THE NIGHT PRIOR to the upset, the Falcons romped past the Rams by an 86-54 margin behind Dave Milne's 31 point output. Joe Alfonso collected 19 in support of Milne, and Leo Fragapano led the Rams with 20.

Jerry Nagahashi netted 25 points to spark the Bears easy victory over the Colts on Saturday. In other games Lynn Berry led the Chargers past the Vikings by totaling 34 points, and the rapidly improving Packers clipped the Giants 92-58.

The last games of the regular season will be played this week with the single-elimination tournament scheduled to begin next Wednesday.

Tankers lose NIC title

Coach John Martin's swim team failed to defend their title and were forced to settle for third place in the NIC conference meet held last weekend in Mankato. A strong crew from Bemidji won the meet with a total of 525 points recorded over the two days of competition.

The host team, Mankato, surprised almost everyone and captured the second spot with 444½ points. The Warriors finished a tight third with a total of 410½ points. Michigan Tech tallied 189½ points for fourth place and St. Cloud rounded out the scoring with 70½ points. Moorhead did not enter a team in the meet.

FRESHMAN LARRY Calvert was a double winner for Winona as he set conference records in both the 200- and 400-yard individual medley races. The speedster from Fort Dodge, Iowa, thus established himself as the most versatile swimmer in the conference in his first year of competition.

Senior Dennis Blanchard also contributed a record setting performance in the 200-yard backstroke event with a time of 2:10 even. Tom Sage collected a first in the 100-yard butterfly, and he too broke the record in the process.

Larry Olson placed second in both the 100 and 200-yard breaststrokes while Dick Childers turned a close second in the "pool mile," the 1650-yard freestyle. Other seconds for Winona were recorded by Bill Keenan in the 200-yard freestyle, by Dennis Blanchard in the 200-yard individual medley (challenging Calvert), and by the Warrior's freestyle relay team in the 400-yard event.
